When General Grant was in Washington in March, shortly after President Garfield's inauguration, he made several requests of the President, of which the latter made a written memorandum in General Grant's presence. The request in regard to Mr. Cramer was that he might be transferred from Denmark to a more southerly climate. General Grant specified that he did not ask a higher grade, only a milder climate. The resignation of Mr. Nicholas Fish from the Swiss Mission, the same grade as Denmark, opened the way for complying with General Grant's request, and the President promptly availed himself of it in supposed compliance with General Grant's earnest wish personally expressed.

VICTORY!

ASYLUM INJUNCTION SUIT SET ASIDE.

THE LAW DECLARED CONSTITUTIONAL.

Full Text of Judge King's Decision.

District Court, Ormsby County, State of Nevada, Jacob Klein, Plaintiff, J. H. Kinkaid, et al, Defendants.

The action came on upon its merits.

The case involves the validity, constitutionality of those certain provisions entitled "An Act to provide for the taking care of the insane of the State of Nevada," approved Feb. 24, 1881, which provides for the taking of $80,000 of the irreducible School Fund, and the execution and delivering of a bond of the State to that fund for the amount stated.

The constitutional objections raised are as follows:

1. That the Act authorizes a State loan and creates public indebtedness in excess of the constitutional limit.
2. That two or more subjects are embraced in the Act and not specified in the title; i. e.: the care of the State insane, construction of public buildings, making of a State loan, and the issuance of bonds therefor, and the investment of State school moneys.
3. That in the Act in question a special law has been enacted, where a general law could be made applicable, and where in point of fact a general one is now in existence.

This has reference to the investment of the State School Funds.

4. That the withdrawal of the $80,000 specified, and the delivery of the State Bond referred to, is not an investment of the School Funds within the meaning of our organic law.

5. That the State is not entitled to borrow moneys to meet the charge of keeping its insane, but must resort to taxation for that purpose.

The limitations imposed by Sec. 3, Art. IX, and Sec. 7, Art. XVII, of our State Constitution, are limitations of the debt-contracting power.

The object of the provisions in question was to guard against extravagance and consequent onerous taxation and distress.

This is the substance and that which is to be strictly guarded.

It does not seem to be of any moment, nor the object of any provision, whether this debt, thus restrained, be represented by bill or bond, or as a floating liability.

Any portion of the present State debt, representing former Territorial debt, may be evidenced by bonds issued by this State since its establishment, without such bonds constituting any part of the public debt of $300,000, limited by Sec. 3 aforesaid.

The present bonded debt of the State principal is $380,000 and no more.

Is this an ordinary State debt, i. e., originally contracted by the State, or does it represent the Senatorial debt assumed or inherited by the State.

In 1871 the remaining Territorial debt amounted to $380,000. In that year the State authorized and negotiated a loan of the amount specified—$380,000—issued its bonds and sold them, and with the proceeds paid the holders of the then Territorial debt their demands, and the evidences of the old Territorial debt were canceled.

In 1877, with an Amendment Act in 1879, the State provided for the purchase of the bonds of 1871, that upon the purchase of these bonds amounting to $380,000, they should be canceled and a new bond of the State for the same sum should be executed to the School Fund.

The outstanding bonds of 1871 were purchased from the several holders and canceled, under the provisions of the Act of 1877, as amended in 1879, and in accordance therewith, and a similar bond for $380,000 executed to the State School Fund as required by that Act.

This bond represents the entire State debt.

The bonds of 1871 were purchased with means and resources existing in the State Treasury.

The transactions of the State Treasury from 1871 to date, show that no payment of bonds, or principal of any debt, has ever been paid from the Territorial Debt Fund, in the Treasury, arising from taxation imposed for the purpose of paying that debt, but on the other hand do show the annual payment of the interest accruing upon this $380,000 from such funds.

I conclude, therefore, that the debt of the former Territory can be and is represented by the State bond for $380,000 now held by the State School Fund.

That the bond is merely a substituted form of indebtedness. That in substance it remains as of the former Territory.

This brings us to the second ground of objection to the Act; that is, that two or more subjects are embraced in the Act, and are not specified in the title.

This is a question of greater difficulty, and if it seemed an open question in the State, would seem almost insuperable.

The provision for the construction of the buildings provided for, seems to be entirely germane to the care of the insane.

The subject of a State loan, issuance of bonds, and the investment of the school moneys, seems less directly connected with the others.

While the one thing is not essentially dependent upon the other yet there is no necessity of repugnance between the two; and the judgment of the Legislature, at least, would seem to be that they are inter-dependent.

The loan upon the borrowing from the School Fund, and the care of the insane, in the mode contemplated; upon the making of the loan.

If the Act of our Legislature prohibiting the sale or disposal of opium and the keeping of places of resort for using the same, can be held not to cover provisions punishing persons resorting to places so kept; I cannot see how subjects any more diverse or less indicated in the title are to be found in the Act in question.

The Opium Act, to so term it, is sustained upon the ground that the object of the Act is to suppress the deleterious use of that drug.

If an assumed object of the Act, (not indicated in its title;) can be thus raised up to support otherwise diverse provisions, the more authority is there for sanctioning the incorporation of different provisions looking to the end named in the title.

To care for the insane requires habitations for them, i. e., a building or buildings for their accommodation.

Both these buildings, and the care of the insane must contemplate the expenditure of money.

This money may be obtained in any method that the State is entitled to resort to, among others a loan.

The obligation to support and care for the insane is fully recognized as one of the duties of the State.

Section 1, Article XIII, Constitution. All the provisions of the Act in question seem to have a direct tendency towards and to contribute to the one object; care of the insane.

This brings us to the third objection named, that is: "That a special law has been enacted, where a general law could be made applicable, and, in fact, when a general Act is now in existence."

The general law does not provide for the object in view, and, in fact, if it did so it would cease to be general.

If the Legislature has the power to control the investment of the School Fund, of course the manner of each investment must be within the same control, and only a special law could provide for each investment.

The act we question does not seem amenable to the objection last named.

This then brings us to the fourth objection named, that is: "That the use of the School money and contemplated by the Act is not an investment within the purview of our State Constitution."

In this behalf it is argued by plaintiff that the State could direct this invested in pre-existing State bonds, but that the issuance of this bond with a view to such investments is an invasion.

I fail to see any substantial difference in the two cases. The bond provided for in this Act is certainly as much the bond of the State, as any bond first issued and sold, and then purchased by the State, could be and remain the bond of the State.

The evasion suggested by the plaintiff could be so easily evaded that his argument would suggest that indirection would be sustained where the direct course would fail.

We now reach its last objection to be considered, namely: "That the State is not entitled to borrow moneys to meet the charge of the insane."

And in this behalf it is argued that the power of the State to contract loans is limited to the necessities of its "business" its ordinary operations, and argue that the care of the insane is not within the scope of that "business."

The Constitution, Sec. 1, Art. XIII, makes the care of the insane a charge upon the State, and with very few exceptions, it is as high an obligation resting upon, and as much a part of the "business" of the State, as any other that can be named.

While these considerations do not clearly satisfy me of the validity of the Act in question, still they so far weaken the force of the objections urged as leaves the question one of such grave doubt, that it becomes my duty to sustain the law.

In accordance herewith findings are drawn in favor of defendants.

I understand that the point first made that the Act in question departed from the trust declared by the Act of Congress in granting public lands to the State for School purposes, was abandoned by plaintiff, and it has not been considered by me. S. D. KING, Judge.

The decision of the Judge leaves the Commissioners free to proceed with the work, and that they intend to hasten it is evidenced by the contract advertisement in this morning's JOURNAL. The plaintiffs in the case could give a bond, and continue the injunction in force, but they might be out a few thousand dollars on that proposition, and so they will probably simply give a bond for appeal costs, and take the matter to the Supreme Court. Meantime the Commissioners can advertise for and let the contract, and have the building well under way by the time the case will be argued in the Supreme Court. And now that the contract is to be let, we want twenty of the best business men of Reno to band together and get that contract; men who do not want to make anything out of the contract, but men who will see that there is no stealing, at the expense of Reno's good name, and men who will see that the State's interests are protected. There must be no relief bills on this work, and the Asylum must be built, according to the plans and specifications, for the sum of $60,000, as appropriated, or less, if it is possible. We insist upon this, and let Reno show that the State can build a public building without being robbed.

The appointment of Senator Hill, of Colorado, to be a member of the Board of Regents of the Smithsonian Institute, was notably a compliment to that gentleman, and will, doubtless, prove of value to Colorado and the mining regions of the Pacific Coast. His selection is understood to have been made on account of his scientific education and long experience as a professor of geology and chemistry in the Brown University, and is for these reasons especially gratifying to Professor Baird, who, as Secretary, has general charge of the institution.

SUNDAY.....MAY 22, 1881.

TOWN AND COUNTY.

W. E. Price was in town yesterday. Osburn & Shoemaker's soda is splendid.

Senator Fair is expected up on this morning's train.

Our markets are kept well supplied with fruits and vegetables.

The Burling drill will be set at work to-morrow in the J. & K. tunnel.

The Nevada and Oregon expect to put on 200 more men this week.

Sheriff Walker has instituted suit against M. C. Lake for $450 Sheriff's fees.

Justice Young yesterday sent up G. D. Morgan for twenty days for stealing a stove from Abrahams Bros.

The Winchel-Ounningham building on Virginia street has been sold to J. Waldie, of Sacramento, for $11,000.

A special election will be held at Washoe on Saturday next for the purpose of raising $350 school money.

Sam Davis appears interested in our astronomical bump; rest easy, Sam; we copied that item from the Sacramento Bee.

Congregational Church, G. F. G. Morgan pastor. Services to-day, as usual. Sunday school at the usual hour.

Elsewhere will be found the advertisement of the Commissioners calling for proposals for building the new Insane Asylum.

The Supreme Court has decided in favor of the Golden Fleece in the case of Marshall vs. the Golden Fleece Mining Company.

The boys and girls of the Episcopal Church choir had a picnic yesterday at the Riverside grounds. That probably accounts for the storm.

A slight shower of rain yesterday afternoon, was thought to be the starter for a good storm. Last night we were favored with quite a shower of hail.

There will be divine service at the M. E. Church to-day, at 11 A. M. and 7:45 P. M.; Rev. C. McKelvey officiating. Song service in the evening at 7:30. Seats free; all are invited. Sabbath school at 1:30.

G. P. Barnett is agent and operator, and E. W. Clark assistant operator, at Mound House. W. H. M. Cobb is agent and operator at Dayton; F. L. Currier fills the same position at Cleaver, and J. H. Blair, formerly of Steamboat, is operator at Hawthorne.

Some Renoites stole Al. Bennett's horn off his 'bus while he was in the river side town with the Washington Guard band, and his accustomed toot is wanting. What the Renoites won't take isn't worth stealing.—Gold Hill News.

The attention of our Chief of Police is called to the above. Let the horn be found and returned, so that Bennett may be happy, and the Gold Hillers be taught that Reno is the horn of plenty and can toot back at Slippery Gulch.

Rev. Winfield Scott, D. D. of San Francisco will preach to-day, morning and evening in the Baptist Church. He will deliver in the evening one of his popular lectures to young men upon "The Game of Life." He is here at the instance of the Missionary Board of California, to assist the church in paying its debt and securing a pastor. He will remain another Sunday. His sermons of last Sunday gave great pleasure to those who heard them.

Time Race.

Quite a crowd gathered at the race track yesterday afternoon. There was but one race, and that the drive nearest to 3:30. Annexed is the record: Du-Vall 3:30, Bradley 3:30½, Lee 3:25, Hill 3:23, Maggie C., 3:40½, Walker 3:34, Lake 3:42, McFarlin 3:57.

Good As New.

Locomotive No. 11, the "Reno," by far the finest engine on the V. & T. R. R., has been thoroughly refitted at the Carson shops, and will soon be put on the road in its old position as "smoke wagon," to borrow a Pinte phrase, of the through express train. So says the Carson Times.

Reform Club.

The audience was not large at the hall last evening. Most of the young folks who were to have assisted in the entertainment were absent, so although the majority of the children did well, the program was short and not very interesting. A phrenologist who was present caused some amusement, by making an examination of the head, and publicly stating the characteristics of Mr. Jaques, who consented to become a martyr for the sake of the already martyred audience.

Our German Senator.

Remember Gus Williams in "Our German Senator" at the theater to-morrow night. The Sacramento Record-Union of Friday has the following of the play and the chief actor:

Under the management of Ben Stern, and the proprietorship of John Rickaby, the Gus Williams Comedy Troupe appeared at the Metropolitan Theater last night. The play, "Our German Senator," is an extravagant, but not wholly unnatural story, which has its pivotal interest in the canvass for and election to a United States Senatorship, of one J. Adolph Dinkel (Mr. Williams), a rich retired German Milwaukee brewer, who despises political life, and has sense enough to know he is not fit for the place, but is forced to take it by the ambition of his wife and the wiles of a couple of shrewd managers, who wish to use him in the place. Interwoven with this plot are a couple of love stories, a couple of flirtations and any amount of small talk. The comedy is of a piece with the host of specialties of the day which are written for the sole purpose of fitting and framing some particular person who aspires to be a star, and can only bill himself as such by that means, and by gathering about him, and by subordinating to him, a traveling company. It is a piece of the order and kind which is pressing the breath of life out of the legitimate drama. But, this said as to its tone and tendency, let it be added that it is chaste, and so, unlike the "Lingard" nastiness; it is probable, and so, unlike the "Strategists" tomfoolery; it is a regularly-ordered and arranged play, and so, unlike the "Tourists" nonsense, and Mr. Williams is a dialect comedian of recognized and decided ability, and so, unlike the army of pretenders who claim public consideration. His play, therefore, is neither sensational, foolish, impure, nor greatly improbable, and so it is better than the ordinary run, though it must be classified as staged in the outset. Mr. Williams, heretofore known as a superior dialect variety performer, in this piece blossoms out as a comedian, and with entire success.

"The Californian."

The June number of this San Francisco monthly appears with a varied and well-selected table of contents. The opening paper is a short but clear analysis, by Professor Joseph Le Conte, of Wallace's "Island of Life," followed by an argument in favor of sending our young men to California colleges, instead of to the older and more widely-known Eastern institutions of learning. Mr. M. G. Upton has a criticism on Henry George's doctrines, which he calls "The literature of Utopia," and Mr. Creighton's discourses on Beaconsfield and his works. Helen Willman's "Good-for-Nothing" comes to a happy close. Mr. Cheney's "49 and '50" is continued, and a new story by Mr. Warren Cheney, "Mr. Hiram McManus," is begun. Josephine Clifford and May M. Glascock each contribute a pleasant short story, and there is a good variety of poetry and miscellaneous articles.

Devastating Hoppers.

The grasshoppers have eaten 60 of the 125 acres of Pete Dalton's grain; he does not expect to put a reaper into the remaining 60 acres, and gives it up. He has 100 acres of hay, timothy and clover, but the hoppers have not yet touched it. J. C. Smith is afraid his crop will not satisfy the capacious maw of the grasshoppers there are now on his ranch, and thinks some of hiring somebody to sow 100 acres somewhere else to feed the hoppers that may still visit him during the season. A. M. Lamb has no crop at all. G. W. Haffaker has abandoned the idea of doing any good for himself this season.

Assessments.

The San Francisco Post, which is usually a bull, gives this bear item: Among the assessments soon to be levied the following may be named: Utah $2, Union $1, Mexican $1, California 20 cents, Gould and Curry 50 cents, Chol-lar 50 cents, Potosi 50 cents, Bullion 50 cents and Alta 50 cents. It is quite probable that an assessment of $1 per share will be levied by the Savage Company after the 6th instant—the day of sale for the present assessment.

Seeds for Everybody.

Just received from the best gardens of the Eastern States and California a choice lot of fresh and pure Vegetable and Flower Seeds. Being experienced dealers and large buyers, we buy cheaper and sell our seeds twenty per cent. cheaper in bulk to farmers and gardeners than any other house in Reno—call and see for yourselves.—Alfalfa, Red Clover, mothy, Red Top, White Clover, Blue Grass, Fine Mixed Lawn seeds. All at stock as cheap as the cheapest.

OSBURN & SHOEMAKER.*

The Reno Ice Company has commenced the regular delivery of ice in Reno for the Summer season, and orders will be promptly filled at Blakeley's store.

If you want to know how cheap cornices, or picture molding, or picture frames, can be sold, call and find out at Osburn & Shoemaker's.

For the late styles of solid, and also rolled gold jewelry, you have to go to Goeggel on Virginia street, Reno.

Bridal, wedding and birthday presents to suit your taste, you can find at Goeggel's.

Put it to Proof.

At a time when the community is flooded with so many unworthy devices and concoctions, it is refreshing to find one that is beneficial and pure. So conscientious are the proprietors of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, of the worth of their remedy, that they offer all who desire a trial bottle free of charge. This certainly would be disastrous to them did not the remedy possess the remarkable curative qualities claimed. Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption will positively cure asthma, bronchitis, stubborn coughs, colds, pituitic, quinsy, hoarseness, croup, or any affection of the throat and lungs. As you value your existence give this wonderful remedy a trial by calling on R. E. Queen, druggist, and obtaining a trial bottle free of cost, or a regular size bottle for $1.
